

Portugal, Tablela

Cascais was chosen to host the multiplier event, as it is considered to be Portugal’s heart of business and innovation activity. The day was kicked off by a business breakfast providing the opportunity to do networking, which represent high value to Portuguese professionals. The agenda was designed to highlight interesting topics from the training material and invited guest speakers accordingly (Paulo Figueras, the CEO of Rolloncell and Nikoletta Agonacs, Phd professor of University of Lisbon). Finally, gamification was presented to the guests, both on the platform and face-to-face to present its usability and importance.
